

Compilation of Notes from Sept 28, 2021 Mosquito Control

Training must include something on basic biology

Cover types of applications for Larvicide, perimeter barrier, resting sites, ULV/Adult

Product availability, timing of applications for greatest control- application frequency

Equipment available to the industry and proper use of it

Site evaluation and awareness- neighboring properties – Red flags and areas to avoid

Application techniques: How to get greatest effectiveness with least potential drift

Personal Protective Equipment (PPE) for technicians

Effect of weather on the application

Making the application. Use of raw video to give audiences a visual reference to show what the technician is doing correctly and areas of needed improvement

Customer and public communications and claims – What is and is not acceptable

Licensing required in Indiana – Currently and in the future